TECHNICAL PROJECTS

- Pokedex Console App - This C# .NET Core Application takes user entry for a specific Pokemon ID and calls a Pokemon API retrieve information for that specific Pokemon. The content is sent as a Json file and is parsed using the Newtonsoft.Json Nuget package to display specific details regarding the selected Pokemon, such as name, height, and weight.
- Kanye "Rest"/Swanson API - This C# .NET Core Application calls separate Kanye West and Ron Swanson RESTful APIs and alternates displaying iconic phrases from both celebrities. This project utilizes the Newtonsoft.Json Nuget package to facilitate translation of the API responses.
- TacoParser - Receives information from a CSV file that is used to create objects that inherit properties from an interface. These objects are compared using the GeoCoordinate library. The beginning stages of the project utilized Test Driven Development to develop the application. The project finds the two Taco Bells furthest from each other in Alabama.
- WPF Weather App - This C# .Net Core WPF application makes a call to the Open Weather Map API to display weather content. The content is sent as a Json file that is interpreted using C# and the Newtonsoft.Json Framework.
